

What makes a good financial strategy?

Oct 10 2022

When you're going on a journey, there are three essential questions to ensure you have a great trip. How will I get there? How much will it cost? How will I deal with the unexpected? Answering these questions thoughtfully will allow for a more pleasant trip.

A written financial strategy serves the same purpose in the bigger picture of life. When you have a plan for your financial journey, it's easier to decide how you spend money, stay on track, manage unexpected expenses, and achieve your long term goals. It may also help to safeguard your assets when major life changes like retirement, marriage, children, divorce or job loss come along. So what makes a good financial strategy? Here are some critical components it should include¹.

1. Goals List all of your financial goals. Consider everything that matters to you, from paying off debt, buying a new home, or saving for retirement, to ensuring you have enough money to live on in your future. List all assets and liabilities you own, including cash, investments, real estate, and other assets. Consider how you will use these assets to achieve your goals.
2. Investment Strategy Determine how you will invest your money. Consider your risk tolerance, time horizon, and goals. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop an investment strategy that aligns with your goals.
3. Retirement Planning Determine how you will fund your retirement. Consider your current savings, employer plans, and other sources of income. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop a retirement plan that aligns with your goals.
4. Estate Planning Determine how you will protect your assets in the event of your death or disability. Consider wills, trusts, and other estate planning tools. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop an estate plan that aligns with your goals.
5. Tax Planning Determine how you will minimize your tax liability. Consider deductions, credits, and other tax planning strategies. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop a tax plan that aligns with your goals.
6. Insurance Determine how you will protect your assets from unexpected events. Consider life, health, and disability insurance. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop an insurance plan that aligns with your goals.
7. Charitable Giving Determine how you will support the causes you care about. Consider charitable deductions and other giving strategies. Consult with a professional advisor to help you develop a charitable giving plan that aligns with your goals.
